IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Trouble—A Janesville Citizen
Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Janesville people testify to permanent cures.

Mrs. Annie Kohlhoff, of 330 Cherry St., Janesville, Wis., says: "Since using Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago for kidney troubles and backache I have had no hesitation in recommending them to every sufferer I have met. I had used remedy after remedy and tried plasters and did everything I knew of for these complaints, but the trouble grew continually worse, and was fast undermining my general health. About 7 years ago I was in a very bad condition, and it was at that time that I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at the Peoples' Drug Co. and began using them. Good results followed quickly and a continued treatment brought me a complete cure. I have never had any kidney trouble since I used Doan's Kidney Pills." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

POLITICS PLAY AN IMPORTANT PART

IN EVERYDAY WASHINGTON LIFE
AT THE PRESENT.

TO BE NO RAILROAD WAR

President Has Informed the People
He Does Not Seek Trouble with the Railroads at All.

(Special Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., April 4.—Politics and finance are the only subjects discussed in Washington at this time. The former subject is always seasonable for all political roads lead to Washington. Most paths run toward the great white, dome-capped building on the hill; a few point toward the executive mansion at the other end of broad Pennsylvania avenue. It is seldom, however, that the eyes of the financial world are focussed upon the city to the extent they have been during the past few weeks, and promise to be for some time to come. To obtain something of an insight into the situation your correspondent has discussed the financial and business outlook with more than one of those deeply concerned, and finally sought an official position occupying a powerful position. While nothing alarming was learned, yet the consensus of opinion was that present conditions are by no means reassuring. Within a short time, however, possibly by the time this appears in print, the country will learn something that will tend to re-establish general confidence. Of this I will treat later.

President Roosevelt and his advisers are confronted with an admittedly delicate and difficult problem. In fact, there remains but little to be said by the President. He has repeatedly assured the people, individually and collectively, that his administration contemplates no war upon the railroads, nor upon any other corporate interests. At the same time, the people through their legislators, have expressed their determination that great railroad and industrial corporations must be regulated for the general good, and have enacted laws to give effect to this determination. To the execution of these laws the President is pledged, both by his oath of office and his obligations to the people. Nothing in the conduct of the administration, however, has given the least foundation for a general feeling that corporations are to be unjustly hounded or pursued merely because they are large and powerful. "If the railroads are sincere and wish to re-establish a feeling of confidence," said my friend, who is close to the President, "why do they not come into court and promise to be good? Those railroads who obey the laws have nothing to fear. Let them frankly state that they purpose to cooperate with the government and especially the Interstate Commerce commission, which is especially charged with their supervision, and the people will be satisfied."

"It is not, let us say, the President contemplates a move which will go toward allaying uneasiness and suspicion. The powers conferred upon the Interstate Commerce commission are susceptible of broad interpretation, and under these powers it is contemplated that an exhaustive examination of the accounts of railroads will be made. To fairly determine whether a freight rate is just and reasonable, the commission must take into consideration the interests of the stock and bondholders, who are entitled to a fair return on their capital. To this end an appraisal of the value of the roads must be made, and in no other way can it be had, but by an examination of the books. The question is one of the greatest complexity. Among points to be considered are: The amount of money actually invested and expended in constructing their franchises, terminals, and other real and physical appurtenances. Then comes a question of a somewhat intangible character, but of the highest importance, which is as to what profit should be allowed to those bold adventurers who were at the forefront and who have invested their money in enterprises fraught with peril. To those who backed and put through the transcontinental roads, for instance, the country owes a debt scarcely measurable in money. Their enterprises opened a comparative unknown territory, and made possible the great westward to the amount of long-expected investment would scarcely be fair. Again many railroad stocks are high today; many have been what is popularly termed "watered," but how have they fared since the beginning? Have holders of securities received an annual return on their money from the time it was invested to the present, which can fairly be termed excessive? It is well known that most railroads have at times paid no dividends, even lost money in operating. What is the average rate of interest, and has it been unduly large? Again, how much of the profits of the railroads has been devoted to betterments and extensions, and of this amount, how much should properly be allowed? Railroads stand toward the public in a lone position. No other corporations are in the class with the railroads. Consequently it is difficult to decide such questions, in the absence of a fixed basis of comparison. A merchant contemplating the renovation or extension of his store, or the erection of a new building, would scarcely expect to borrow all the money for the purpose. He would naturally set aside at least a portion of his profits. Railroads do likewise and more or less of their revenue has gone into improvements and additional facilities. But this money, unlike that of the merchant, has come from the people at large, somewhat as the old toll roads levied toll, and has been placed to the benefit of the stock and bondholders. On the other hand, additional issues of stock or bonds for such purposes, because a permanent charge upon the roads, and therefore upon the people, is not set aside for these purposes, and how much improperly, is a difficult question to decide. In many cases, no doubt, stocks and bonds have been issued for improvements when the roads were paying high dividends and a part of such dividends could have been set aside for this purpose, and obviated the issuing of additional securities. It is desirable to take a sort of inventory of the railroads, made, not by themselves, but by the government. Whether this will be done now largely depends upon the attitude which those in authority over the roads assume. If they are agreeable the government intends, according to my information, to shortly inaugurate an examination of the most thorough and searching character into the condition and affairs of the interstate railroads. I understand that it is contemplated that this shall be done not by the usual agents of the government or the Interstate Commerce commission, but by a corps of experts, carefully selected for this special purpose, whose obvious disinterestedness, and whose high reputation will vouch for the thoroughness and impartiality of their work. A number of the leading banking firms have been communicated with, so your correspondent is informed, and it is contemplated that several hundred expert auditors will be engaged for a period of a year or more on this task.

What will the railroads think of this? As a matter of fact, what can they do but accept the situation with as good grace as possible? Mr. Roosevelt holds all the cards. Let a railroad throw open its books to the government experts and the people will at once say: "That road is all right; it has nothing to conceal." But let it howl and squirm and refuse, and then what will the public say? Except "this road is rotten or it would not fear examination." The effect upon the securities will immediately be perceptible, and it needs no wiseacre to point out what that effect will be. Therefore, it is difficult to see how the railroads can afford not to throw open their books.

This proposition can not fail to commend itself to all right-minded persons; and if the railroad magnates are half as scared as they say they are, the quicker the examination is made the better for them and their roads. "I doubt very much," said my distinguished friend, "if on examination it will be found that the railroads in general are over-capitalized to any considerable extent, when all the points relating to their value are considered. I doubt if the dividends, if averaged up, have been excessive for more than a few instances." If the examination proceeds to the end and the result will be the most important and far-reaching event since the civil war. It will be a government audit of the railroads, and the declaration by the government that a road has not been over-capitalized will give its securities a standing never before possessed. It would stamp them with government approval and be almost an unwritten guaranty of their value. No railroad could afford to be without such a certificate of character.

It is likely the subject will be broached in this manner. The Interstate Commerce commission has constantly before it cases which necessitate the presence of many leading railroad men. One of these can be made a pretext for inviting others not directly concerned with the case in hand, into consultation. There is no reason why this should not be a view of determining whether the rates as a whole give excessive, fair, or unduly low returns to investors. The question will then be up to the railroads.

Apparently the President has no intention of asking additional railroad legislation except in two instances. If the railroads oppose the examination of their books he will likely ask congress to give the commission proper authority. If it is decided the commission does not already possess it. There is little doubt that he will ask that the issuing of further securities for interstate roads be permitted only with the approval of the government. If present plans are carried to their summation railroad securities will eventually have a place on a par with, or second only, to those of the United States.

Mrs. V. H. Campbell of Evansville Made Extensive Lecture Tour Through Southwestern Wisconsin.

(Special to The Gazette.)

Evansville, Wis., April 3.—Mrs. V. H. Campbell returned Tuesday evening from an extended lecture tour through Green, Lafayette and Iowa counties in the interest of the license campaign, and in connection with this work she organized a number of W. C. T. U. societies. There was a fair attendance at the citizens' meeting recently held in the Baptist church for the purpose of organizing a historical society in Evansville. A committee consisting of Miss Marilla Andrews, R. M. Richmond and J. H. West was selected to apply for a charter and take steps to form a permanent organization.

The newly-elected officers of the W. C. T. U. are Mrs. Will Magee, Pres.; Mrs. V. A. Axtell, First Vice Pres.; Mrs. J. W. Christison, Second Vice Pres.; Mrs. Ed. Cadwallader, Sec.; Mrs. George Fisher, treasurer; Mrs. Chas. Pensall, Mrs. Walter Biglow and Mrs. E. E. Colony, program committee.

Attorney G. D. Roe of New York city and Mrs. W. Barton of Albany have been visiting at the home of their aunt, Mrs. R. S. Shepard.

One could hardly realize that Tuesday was election day in Evansville as it passed off so quietly, the only contestants in the field being Supt. Hemmingsway and Prin. F. B. Green. This being Mr. Green's home city a number of our people worked hard to win votes in his favor but Supt. Hemmingsway received the majority. The city officers were all re-elected, their being no opposing candidates.

LAW FURNISHES FUN FOR LOCAL GROCERS

Customers Don't Always Recognize Goods Complying With the New Measure.

Janesville grocers are considerably amused, they say, on many occasions and in various ways, as a direct result of the workings of the pure food law. Speaking of the law, a local retail grocer said: "No, we are not experiencing any trouble with canned fruits and vegetables, for the stock the grocers now have on hand was packed last fall after the law was enacted, and complies in every way with the requirements of the federal and the Wisconsin state laws. Some retail grocers may still have a little stock on hand, purchased before the law took effect and which they are at liberty to sell until July, 1907, but the majority of grocers are entirely cleaned up on almost all things which didn't conform.

Catsup Spoiled? "Here's something that was just returned to me this morning," said the grocer, reaching into a basket and bringing out a bottle of a certain brand of "catsup, cocktail catsup." "The lady that ordered this returned it at once with the delivery boy, saying she could not use any 'stuffy' like that, that it must be spoiled, that it surely could not be good, etc. Well, I just phoned to her and explained matters, with the result that she wants it sent back, and says she is glad to get it pure. You see this same brand of catsup has always been a 'beautiful red,' but this new pure food product is just the natural color, the same as home made catsup that a housewife makes.

Imagination and Butter. "Imagination seems to go a great ways with butter. Some farmers have been reading that harmful coloring can not be used in butter. Not being certain which manufacture of coloring can be lawfully used, some are not coloring their butter, and here is where we are having a small amount of trouble. We receive a nice fresh lot of fine, sweet separator butter from the country, butter of the same farmer's make that he had been supplying certain customers' every week. The coloring has been left out, and for the first time, these people who have been so well satisfied with this make of butter right along, send it back to us, some complaining that it is strong, some can't eat it, others say it has some 'funny taste,' and some say they know it is mixed with lard and you can't fool them.

Pure Extract Not Hit. "One thing that to my notion is not going to make a great hit, is pure vanilla extract. Now that may sound unreasonable, but nevertheless I believe that to be a fact. A prominent local coffee, spice, and extract house conducted an experiment recently with strictly pure extract of vanilla made from the best grade of vanilla beans obtainable, and also with imitation vanilla made from a combination of tonka bean, coumarin, etc., and found that the pure vanilla when subjected to the usual amount of heat required in baking cakes or boiling frostings, will lose its strength, while the imitation will hold its flavor no matter how much baking or cooking it goes through. For food uses, such as ice cream and ices, the pure was found to hold its flavor as well but not better than the imitation, so we recommend the latter and can give the people a larger bottle for the money than of the pure."

HOSPITAL BENEFIT BALL BIG SUCCESS

Over a Hundred Couples Participated in Festivities at Assembly Hall Last Evening.

Over one hundred couples attended the charity ball given at the Assembly hall last evening for the benefit of the Palmer Memorial Mercy Hospital fund. The tickets were sold at $5 each and many of the purchasers were prevented by rain or illness or other causes from participating in the festivities. Festoons of evergreen and smilax, palms and other potted plants, and numerous colored lights, the use of which had been donated by the Unique Club and Edward Amerpohl, formed the alluring environment of the animated scene. The committee to receive the guests, as anticipated, consisted of Messrs. and Mesdames S. B. Heddles, P. S. Baines, George S. Parker, F. L. Wilbur, M. Smith, T. O. Howe, Michael Hayes, W. L. Dougherty, P. J. Mount, W. G. Wheeler, George Devins, H. H. Bliss, J. P. Penner, P. S. Sheldon, John G. Reed, A. B. Bligham, and Norman L. Carls. Not all of this committee was present but the representation was a large one. In the grand march which took place at nine o'clock and was led by Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wheeler many new and handsome gowns made their first appearance. The music was by the full orchestra of Knelt & Hatch and the last waltz was played at one this morning, Daniel Ryan, W. T. Dooley, A. J. Wilbur, Joseph Connors, D. W. Hayes, and Joseph Donahue composed the committee of arrangements, and F. H. Jackman, C. S. Putnam, George M. McKee, H. S. Haggart, R. M. Bostwick, and E. F. Ryan had charge of the floor. After expenses had been deducted there will be a goodly sum to turn over to the hospital fund.

Silverthorn-Trevorrah Footville, April 4.—A pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Silverthorn, when their daughter, Jennie, was united in holy matrimony to Mr. Francis Trevorrah of Edgerton. Promptly at 1 p. m. the couple marched to strains of music played by the bride's sister, Emma, and stood before the Rev. Frank W. Mutchler, who said the words that united them as husband and wife. The wedding ceremony was used. Miss Myrtle Mutchler of Bayard, Iowa, carried the ring on a tray. After congratulations the party was conducted to the dining hall, where a three-course dinner was served. The couple stood in front of a bank of ferns and geraniums. The house decorations were splendid. Pink and white carnations were used in profusion and roses also added to the beautiful effect. The bride was dressed in white Persian lawn and carried bride's roses. The groom wore the regular black. The presents were many and of a useful kind. There were some fifty guests present. The bride is among Footville's most popular young ladies and has a host of friends that wish her well. The groom is a steady young man and has earned for himself the esteem of all who know him. The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Trevorrah, Miss Violet Trevorrah, the Misses Marie and Dorothy Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Clark and Lester Trevorrah of Edgerton; Mr. T. Silverthorn and wife of Oronville; Mrs. Wm. Smith and son of Evansville; and Roy Silverthorn and wife of Hanover.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time. It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ, which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide. Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness, and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

Before The Footlights.

Over two million copies of "So Long Mary" have been sold by the publishers during the past year. Its sales are said to far exceed that of any other song published in recent years. It is one of the musical numbers which Geo. M. Cohan composed for his most successful comedy, "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway," and is sung with telling effect by Corinne in the last act of the play. Its simple and pathetic melody, so easily to be remembered is now as familiar to the boulevardiers of Paris as in the cafes of New York. Mr. Cohan has only written five musical numbers for this play, relying on the bright lines and clever situations for its success, more than on a dazzling chorus, or indifferent music. That it has won the popular fancy has been proven by its run of thirty weeks in Chicago and twenty weeks in New York. "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway" will be presented at the Myers theatre Friday, April 26.

Musical Event of the Season
It is with pleasure that we announce the coming of the celebrated Chicago Ladies' Concert band, a unique organization of the greatest lady soloists in the western world, to the Myers theatre tonight. Ladies that have graduated from the largest musical centers of the United States. The press of the entire country, highly commends the work rendered by every member of the organization. In addition to their many high class overtures and solos is interspersed classic vocalism, harp and violin solos. It is the duty of all lovers of high class and artistic entertainment to arrange to greet the Chicago Ladies' Concert band with a packed house.

The individual worth of Gertrude C. Housel and her contribution to the Chicago Ladies' Concert band can be inferred from this single sample notice: "Without Gertrude Housel the band would be an organization of merit, but it would lack one of its strongest soloists and the winning personality of the young woman. Miss Housel is not only a solo violinist, but is an able member on a wind instrument and is a musician of unusual ability. Her attack, her abandon, her technique and her interpretation are all remarkable. She is free in her playing from the affectations and vanities that mar the work of many virtuosi."

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Thursday, April 4, 1867.—One Hundred and Twenty Years.—The establishment of Doty Bros. & Richardson is turning out weekly one hundred and twenty washing machines. Their washer is hard to beat and the public is not slow to appreciate its merits.

The Fenians Still at Work.—On the 1st inst. a band of Fenians were defeated by the British troops near Dublin. On the 2nd a squad pitched into the red coats, with some success, in the vicinity of Cork, and latest advices state that after the intensely severe weather moderates there is to be another general uprising in the Green Isle.

Beautiful Specimens of Photography.—We have had the pleasure of examining a large collection of plain and colored photographs, from the Academy of design of this city. They exhibit a beauty of execution that is found only in establishments that do first class work. It is little wonder that the reputation of Barks as a first class artist is growing so rapidly.

Should be Looked After.—There is a gang of rowdy boys infesting the city, that needs the attention of the authorities. They use the sidewalk for a place to play and scuffle, while they salute the ears of passers, with oaths and obscenity. Some relief is demanded from such a grievous nuisance, and we hope steps will be taken to at least clear the streets of these incipient rowdies. Parents who allow their boys to run in the streets, day and night, must expect at no distant day to see their names linked with deeds of crime. If nothing else will suffice these lads should be arrested as vagrants. Will the authorities see to it?

Advancing.—When advanced seven cents per bushel yesterday in Milwaukee. There is an upward tendency in the price of all grain.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach we are utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself from most common diseases. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "work stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.
The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.
Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Advisor will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Showers this afternoon, threatening and much colder tonight, Friday fair.

HARD COMMON SENSE

The late Secretary Shaw was blessed with a fund of hard common sense, and when the record of his term in the treasury department is fully analyzed, it will be discovered that his administration was noted for conservatism combined with level-headed business sense.

He possessed a keen eye for detecting frauds, and when discovered they were corrected without advertising or undue publicity. On a visit to Boston, near the close of his administration, he was closely questioned by reporters concerning the Glasgow case in the "custom house." He met the boys with a smile and said:

"There are always rats in every large store, and it is necessary to keep the trap constantly set. But it is not wise every time you catch a rat to whistle for all the dogs in the alley to come to the killing. Of course it will advertise the fact that you are something of a catcher of rats, but it will also advertise the fact that you have rats in your store."

When the ink frauds in the department of engraving were being investigated, he said to Secretary Keppel:

"Don't say anything about this; I think we have as many skunk skins on our barn as the other neighbors, but we have made no noise about it."

This was his policy. If he had been conducting the Shaw trial, the public would have been protected from the nastiness which has swept over the land like a tidal wave of rottenness and pollution.

He believed in punishing the offender without degrading the office. In other words, he was loyal to his government, and his Americanism and love of American institutions was of the highest type.

It is refreshing to study the character and methods of such a man, in these days when destruction is the watchword which incites so many people.

The nation is in peril today because the breath of suspicion and envy fills the atmosphere with its blighting influences.

Because the power of wealth is sometimes abused, all wealth is under the ban, and confiscation either by law or might is considered legitimate.

What the country needs is more of the Shaw spirit. The occasional railroad wreck may be a menace to travel, but that is no reason why American railroads should be denounced as murderers.

The monopoly of certain articles may be a menace to trade, but that is no reason why corporate wealth should be considered tainted and oppressive.

The manufacturing and transportation industries of the country are the two great arteries which furnish life to the nation and develop strength and power.

To attack these arteries and weaken the life-giving current is suicidal in the extreme. The Shaw method would remove the barnacles, but save the ship. It is the only method of common sense; and should be generally adopted.

SPOONER'S SUCCESSOR

If the conservative republican forces of the state should support any one of the half-dozen candidates who aspire to rattle around in the seat now occupied by Senator Spooner, all sorts of criticism would result, but nothing of this kind will happen.

The candidates are all avowed reformers, of more or less virulent type, and one of them will win out. If there was any sentiment connected with the game, Uncle Ike Stephenson would be elected, not because of his statesmanship or marked ability, but as a reward for faithful yellow-dog service.

The old gentleman is close to the edge of time, and it is now or never with him. Two years would satisfy a life-long ambition, and give him a title as he approaches the "peachy gates." The people over in Grant county recognized this fact, and endorsed him by primary vote.

Lonroot has forty years' ahead of him, and if he continues to annoy the body politic persistently, he will land something in the course of time. Davidson; Cooper and Esch are comparatively young men wearing shoulder straps well up to the measure of statesmanship ability.

What more fitting tribute to a long and expensive career, than a seat in a quiet nook under the shadow of the capitol. Uncle Ike deserves it, but the chances are he won't get it.

SENATOR SPOONER

To the men who believe in Senator Spooner's honesty, and they represent the masses, it is not difficult to understand why he resigned when he did. Had no explanation been offered by the senator, it would still be easy to account for his action.

Senator Spooner had long enjoyed the highest honor possible for his constituency to confer. Had the party in his state been harmonious, the presidential possibility would have been within his grasp, but conditions rendered this impossible. His salary was a stipend compared to his ability to earn money in private life, and his exalted position made him the target for malcontents and office-seekers.

There was nothing ahead of him but vexation and worry, and at his age, it was the most natural thing for him to retire. He is at liberty now to enter any field which he may select, and it is safe to say that he will occupy a place in the front ranks of his profession.

His name will live in history as one of the great statesmen of his day and generation, and a credit to the state which loved and honored him so long.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

President Roosevelt retains his popularity with the masses. His like his dash and fearless impulsiveness, and believe in him because of his rugged honesty and untiring energy. His utter lack of diplomacy and stubborn independence also contribute to his popularity, and but for his avowed intention not to be a candidate in 1908, nothing could prevent his re-nomination.

There is, however, an undercurrent of opposition, which is gaining in strength and volume, and which may prove formidable as time advances. It is composed of men who believe him to be erratic and indiscreet, and more or less dangerous on that account.

Corporate wealth is naturally opposed to him, but this in itself is not significant, as it represents but a fragment of the voting population. There is a larger constituency, and more silent, composed of men who think, and who are not influenced by prejudice, who debate in their own minds the man and his methods.

They do not question his honesty of purpose, but they regret his impulsiveness which frequently leads to unwise action.

The Brownsville affair and Storor episode have been lost in the Harriman quarrel, in which the lie has been passed as freely as it would be in the prize ring.

It is never popular to criticize a chief executive, and yet it is apparent to the most casual observer that the President has a weakness for writing letters, and while it is easy, from his exalted position to dispose of his correspondent by calling him a liar, yet it adds nothing to the dignity of the office or character of the man.

Greatness is a many-sided virtue, and President Roosevelt is great in many ways, but he is also intensely human. Harriman and his associates are also men of great ability. It is to be regretted that these two elements of greatness should descend to the level of the street in the settlement of a controversy.

The famous Harriman case is again heard from. Perhaps they may get at Harriman after all and instead of a United States Senatorship in place of Depey something more confining may be offered him by the government.

There is a prospect that the differences between the trainmen and the railway managers will be settled without a strike. That is right, gentlemen, arbitrate the question; do not strike.

Hearst has returned to New York a sadder but wiser man. He was not entertained as royally as he might have been in Chicago, which failed to appreciate his coming to run the city.

The election is now over and many towns have gone dry that used to have liquor licenses and others have gone for liquor which were dry. As a whole though, temperance made gains.

This day and age of excitement is such that the mere mention of an attack upon any public corporation is hailed with glee by the radicals who are to be found in every community.

Every citizen of Janesville should constitute himself a committee of one to boom Janesville. No back talk allowed, just keep on booming the best city in southern Wisconsin.

Several queries have been received at this office as to whether Janesville is going to celebrate the Fourth of July or not. Are you, gentlemen?

The Madison Journal is against Stephenson and does not care who knows it. Its opposition will be of great interest to the state at large.

Madison enjoyed the wedding of Governor Davidson's daughter as much as Washington did that of President Roosevelt's.

If Thaw is insane all the exposure made by his brave little wife is for naught. If he is not, he may be cleared and she will have done it.

Chicago wants to know if Brisbane; Hearst's fifty-thousand-dollar-a-year editorial writer, earned his salary while he was in Chicago.

Already the work of making over the Chicago Traction company has begun. Two thousand cars have been ordered.

The farmer who fails to appreciate the value of good roads in his community is not alive to his own best interests.

Busse has already begun his plans for cleaning out the old I. M. O. gang at the Chicago City Hall.

Fires in San Francisco and New York this morning show heavy losses of life.

Merit should count in the council's selection of a street-commissioner.

PRESS COMMENT.

Promptly Classified
Milwaukee Free Press: To the Annuals club, Washington, D. C. Thanks for the promptness with which you acted upon my application.—E. H. Harriman.

In Reality a Meddler
Milwaukee Journal: Mr. Harriman's letter seemed to be a sort of personal certificate of his own wide versatility, despite a retiring disposition.

Connotation and Denotation
Washington Herald: On the whole, we think we prefer Mr. John Lawrence Sullivan's remark, "Dis country is a sight," to the Brooklyn Eagle's "America leads the world in prophetic psychological projection of possible profit."

A Solemn Thought
Milwaukee News: Rich fathers that in their indignation disinherit their sons when they marry into musical comedies ought to reflect whether the same conditions that breed millionaires may not also create chorus girls.

Hoch vs. the Flag Trust
Racine Journal: The flag trust succeeded in getting passed a bill compelling the display of a flag from 12,000 schoolhouses in Kansas City and the saluting of the flag by every pupil. Gov. Hoch vetoed the measure and now there is trouble from those who do not understand the thing.

Preparing to Solve All Problems
El Paso Herald: If President Roosevelt will not be too impetuous, in a few weeks the sweet girl graduate will tell him how to solve the trust problem, adjust the income tax and how to alleviate transportation evils. It would also be an easy matter for them to elect a successor to Senator Spooner.

Fable of the Fly
El Paso Herald: While the old fable does not happen to mention it, all the other little flies in the neighborhood looked on with awe and unquestioning admiration when the fly on the cartwheel called their attention to the fact that it was only because he was there with his weighty presence that the wheel turned and the cart moved. Same way with Rockefeller and Rogers and Morgan and Harriman and many another; we must all believe that mighty industrial movements go on only because they are perched on their crest. It would be treason to doubt it; and besides the doubter would feel lonely in the midst of the grand chorus of commingled obsequiation and adulation that goes up to the "captains of industry."

Don't Apologize
Exchange: Emerson, one of the wisest of essayists, is author of the maxim that nobody but a fool apologizes. Unless a man makes a fool of himself there is no reason for his apologizing. Whenever he does a foolish thing, his only duty is to apologize and be done with it. The man who looks ahead and pursues a straight and right course of conduct has little need of bringing himself to the point of offering apologies for his actions. Forethought and right feeling clear the way for justifiable conduct. To apologize is to betray a lack of certainty in conduct, and shows that one has not thought out in advance the fundamental problem of behavior. Far better it is to make sure from day to day that one is doing his best and doing it right; than to have a lingering fear that anybody has a right to call his conduct into question.

A patient recently consulted Dr. Richards about needed family work. Had been paying $10 each for gold crowns and was tired of the burden. Said had been doing so for social acquaintance and friendship sake, but couldn't see the use any more of paying twice as much for work as was necessary.

And the time most people think is when the bill is presented for payment.

You may have the very best dental work obtainable in the city for $5 a tooth and you may pay $10 for the very same if you go blindly along. It's all in the way you go.

MILITARY RITES AT GRAVE OF VETERAN

Funeral of Late James A. Sherwood. Conducted by Harry L. Gifford.

Camp, No. 23, U. S. W. V.

With the burial rites of the United States army James A. Sherwood was laid to rest in Oak Hill cemetery this afternoon. Rev. J. H. Tippet, conducted brief services at the home, 103 Pleasant street, and the martial cortege moved from there to the cemetery at half-past two o'clock. The procession was headed by the Imperial band, while the veterans of the Spanish-American war, comrades of the deceased, followed the casket. Nearly a score of members of the ladies' auxiliary to the local veterans' camp rode in a carryall. The ceremonies at the grave were under the auspices of Harry L. Gifford Camp, No. 23, U. S. W. V., and John L. Snyder acted as martial. The pallbearers were Jesse M. Dixon, Alfred Pearl, John L. Fletcher, Charles Pearce, H. J. Manthel and P. E. Clark. When the casket was lowered into the ground the military ritual was performed by Chaplain Henry Kramer, Commander Edward Falter and Comrades John L. Snyder, Jesse M. Dixon and Charles Pearce. The salute to the dead was fired by the following squad in command of Frank Bloedel: Albert Mott, Albert Hill, George Knock, Fred Duller, Benjamin Brown, Frank Brown, Charles Williams and Charles L. Canniff. "The Star Spangled Banner" was rendered by the band and the services closed with "taps," sounded by Bugler Hans Jacke. The obsequies, which were the first conducted by the local camp of Spanish War Veterans, were most impressive.

Thomas Newman

Funeral services over the remains of the late Thomas Newman were held at St. Mary's church at half-past ten o'clock this morning, the body having been carried here from Clinton. Rev. W. A. Goebel was the officiating clergyman and the pallbearers were James P. H. Michael, Frank and Charles Keegan and Michael McGuire. Interment was in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Irma Schultz

Rev. P. F. Werth performed the last sad rites over the remains of the late Irma Schultz at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Schultz, 308 Locust street, at half-past two o'clock this afternoon. The funeral was particularly sad, being the second from the Schultz home within a week, and burial was made beside the deceased's sister, Viola, in Oak Hill cemetery.

John D. Turney Forced to Defend His Title to Estate of Miss Anna McGrain of Fulton.

In the Rock county circuit court today was opened the case of John McGrain et al versus John D. Turney et al, a suit to have set aside the will of Miss Anna McGrain of Fulton. The trial is before Judge Grimm and will probably last through the present week. The complaint alleges that Miss Anna McGrain, a maiden lady of middle age who died more than a decade ago, was unduly influenced and her relatives defrauded when she made her will. She died from cancer, weeks prior to her death from cancer she decided her place to the defendant who at that time was working on her farm. Had she left no deed the property would have been divided among the plaintiffs. Atty. C. J. Hendricks is appearing for McGrain and Atty. J. J. Cunningham for Turney.

TOWN GOING TO DOGS SAYS DR. BUCKMASTER

Literally, Not Figuratively, of Course—Pests Fairly Swarm the Streets.

"Can't something be done about the dog nuisance?" inquired Dr. S. B. Buckmaster, president of the board of education, this morning as a pack of five shaggy beasts emerged from no where to make things lively for a drayman's plodding steed near the Corn Exchange. "They overrun the streets, snapping at the ankles of bicycle riders, interfering with teams, and annoying pedestrians. It's actually so bad that strangers are occasionally heard to speak of this place as 'Dogtown'." Then the doctor added doctoredly: "The school board is mighty glad to get that $200 license money—there are good uses for it."

A WEEK OF PRAYER HAS BEEN DECREED

Local Salvation Army Workers Prepare for Observance of the Same.

During its little less than twenty-six years of successful work in the United States the Salvation Army has clearly demonstrated the fact that it has a specific and very important mission to fulfill in reclaiming the lost, rescuing the outcast, lifting the fallen and ministering to the bodies as well as to the souls of men. In fact, the army seems to have a sphere of usefulness and philanthropy peculiarly its own in that its eminent, temporal head, General William Booth, and his distinguished daughter, Commander Eva Booth, leader of the army's operations in this country, are enabled by their wise direction of affairs to follow lines of effort which no other religious and benevolent movement has ever attempted. And now they announce their "Annual Week of Prayer and Self-Denial" to take place from Sunday, April 14th, to Sunday, April 21st; both dates inclusive. Practicing daily self-denial, those earnest and zealous workers are going in to abstain, during this special week, from all luxuries and even from some of the necessities of life, that they may raise more money with which to extend the army's operations at home and abroad.

MAJ. PENROSE TELLS BROWNSVILLE STORY

COMMANDER OF NEGRO TROOPS
BEFORE SENATORS.

THINKS THEM INNOCENT

Has Changed His Mind About Perpetrators of the Outrage—
Lieut. Leckie Also Testifies.

Washington, April 4.—Testimony of unusual interest was given Wednesday in the Brownsville investigation before the senate committee on military affairs, the chief witnesses being Maj. Charles W. Penrose, who commanded the former soldiers who are charged with having "shot up" the Texas city, and Lieut. H. G. Leckie, who was sent to Brownsville by Gen. McCaskey, commander of the department of Texas, to investigate facts connected with the shooting.

Lieut. Leckie traced the course taken by bullets that penetrated houses in Brownsville and came to the conclusion that the bullets could not have been fired by soldiers in the barracks. Maj. Penrose has been acquitted by court martial on charges of neglect of duty, while the same court martial found that the men of the Twenty-fifth infantry were guilty. Notwithstanding this finding, Maj. Penrose asserted his confidence now in the innocence of the men, although at first he thought them guilty, and in reply to a question by Senator Foraker said that the negro soldiers had not been represented by counsel at the court. Neither Maj. Penrose nor Lieut. Leckie has been cross-examined.

Maj. Penrose's Story.

Maj. Penrose testified that he was awake when the firing began on the night of August 13 and immediately dressed upon hearing two pistol shots from the road. He thought in the vicinity of the guard house. His story, as to the rest of the shooting, the call to arms and the formation and disposition of the companies during the succeeding hours tallies with that told by other officers. He testified to sending Capt. Lyon with company D to patrol the town and of his return, accompanied by Mayor Combs and his brother Joe Combs, and of their statement that soldiers had done the shooting.

After a general discussion between the Combses and officers of the Twenty-fifth infantry, Maj. Penrose said, the mayor asked to speak to him privately. In this talk, the witness said, Mayor Combs told him that none of the men of the Twenty-fifth should be permitted to enter the town as he could not be responsible for the actions of citizens toward them. This applied to officers as well as enlisted men, as Mayor Combs said that the sight of a uniform might inflame the people. Maj. Penrose said that he replied that he would allow none of his men to enter the town and neither would he allow a citizen to enter the garrison. He made an exception of the mayor and any citizen bearing letters from the mayor.

Why He Thought Them Guilty.

According to the testimony of Maj. Penrose, he did not believe his men had done the shooting until the following morning, when Capt. Macklin found the clips and shells outside the garrison wall at the mouth of what is known as the Cowan alley. His feeling that the men were guilty was strengthened by not finding any marks of bullets on the barracks walls or the sides next to the town.

THE PLUM TREE

BY DAVID GRAY PHILLIPS
AUTHOR OF "THE COST OF THE DELIVER," ETC.

I heard Carlotta asking a woman in the box next ours the name of the woman with the white plume in the big black hat in the seventh box on the other side.

"Mrs. Scarborough," was the answer.

"Oh, is that she?" exclaimed Mrs. Sanders, almost snatching her glasses from me in her eagerness. "You know who she was—John Dumont's widow—do you remember him? She must have been an uncommon person to have attracted two such men."

But Scarborough was nominated now. He waved aside those who tried to take him up and bear him to the platform. He walked down the aisle alone and ascended amid a tense silence. He stood looking calmly out. His face had lost its whiteness of a few minutes before. As he stood there, big and still, a sort of embodiment of fearlessness, I wondered, and I fancy many others were wondering—whether he was about to refuse the nomination. But an instant's thought drove the wild notion from my mind. He could not strike that deadly blow at his party.

"Fellow delegates," said he—a clear, more musical voice than his—I have never heard—'I thank you for this honor. As you know, I opposed the platform you saw fit to adopt. I have nothing to retract. I do not like it. But after all, a candidate must be his own platform. And I bring my public record as proof of my pledge—that'—he paused and the silence was tremendous. He went on, each word distinct and by itself—"If I am elected—a long pause—"I shall obey the constitution"—another pause—"I shall enforce the laws!"

He was descending the aisle before the silence was broken—a feeble, rippling applause, significant of disappointment at what seemed an anti-climax. He had merely repeated in condensed form the oath of office which a president takes, at his inauguration. But somehow—no doubt it was the magic of his voice and his manner and superb presence—those simple words kept on ringing; and all at once—full half a minute must have elapsed—a long time in such circumstances—all at once the enormous meaning of the two phrases boomed into the brains of those thousands. If this man is elected, there will be a president without fear or favor, and he will really enforce the law! That little speech, though only a repetition of an oath embodied in our century-old supreme law, was a firebrand to light the torch of revolution, of revolution back toward what the republic used to be before differences of wealth divided its people into upper middle and lower classes before enthroned corporate combinations made equality before the law a mockery, before the development of our vast material resources restored to the intelligent and energetic few their power over the careless and purposeless many.

As the multitude realized his meaning—I doubt it many times in all history such a sight and sound has burst upon mortal ears and eyes. For the moment I was daunted; it was impossible not to think that here was the whole people, not to feel that Scarborough had been chosen president—and was about to fulfill his pledge. Daunted yet thrilled, too. For, at bottom, are we not all passionate dreamers of abstract right and justice?

Then I remembered; and I said to myself: "He has defied the interests."

David has gone out against Goliath—but the Davids do not win nowadays. I will elect Burbank.

But where was the elation that thought would have set to swelling in the throats of those two weeks before? And then I began clearly to see that, for me at least, the prize, to be prized, must be fairly won from start to goal; and to be enjoyed, must gladden eyes that would in turn gladden me with the approval and sympathy which only a woman can give and without which a man is alone and indeed forlorn.

CHAPTER XX.

Pilgrims and Patriots.

From St. Louis I went direct to Burbank.

His heart had been set upon a grand speech-making tour. He was fond of wandering about, showing himself to cheering crowds; and he had a deep, and by no means unwarranted, confidence in his platform magnetism. At first I had been inclined to give him his way. But the more I considered the matter, the stronger seemed to become the force of the objections—it takes a far bigger man than was Burbank at that stage of his growth not to be cheapened by "stealing-chasing for votes," also, the coming of the candidate causes jealousy and heart-burning over matters of precedence, reception and entertainment among the local celebrities; and so he often leaves the party lukewarm where he found it enthusiastic. Further, it uses up local campaign money that ought to be spent in hiring workers at the polls; which is the polite phrase for vote-buying as "retaining-fee" is the polite phrase for bribe.

I decided against the tour and for the highly expensive but always admirable and profitable "pilgrimage plan."

Burbank's own home was at Rivington, and I should have had him visited there, had it not been on a single-track branch railway, which could not handle without danger and discomfort the scores of thousands we were planning to carry to and from him daily. So it was given out that he, purposed as far as possible to withdraw from the strife of the campaign and to await the results in the dignified calm in which he wished the voters to determine it. He took after Woodruff had carefully selected it—a "retired" house "in the country."

And it was in the open country. A farm garden adjoined it on the one side, a wheat field on the other, a large orchard to the rear. The broad meadow in front gave plenty of room for delegations visiting the "standard bearer of the party of patriotism" in his "rural seclusion"—to hear his simple, spontaneous words of welcome. But for all the remote aspect of the place, it was only five minutes' drive and ten minutes' walk from a station through which four big railroads passed. One of the out-buildings was changed into a telegraph office from which accounts of the enthusiasm of the delegations and of his speeches could be sent to the whole country. On his desk in his little study stood a private-wire telephone that, without danger of leakage, would put him in direct communication either with my study at Fredonia or with Doc Woodruff's private headquarters at Chicago. Thus, our statesman, though he seemed to be aloof, was in the very thick of the fray; and the tens of thousands of his fellow citizens, though they seemed to come almost on their own invitation inspired by uncontrollable enthusiasm for the great statesman, were in fact free excursionists—and a very troublesome, critical, expensive lot they were. But the public was impressed. It sits in its seat in the theater of action and believes that the play is real, and ignores and forgets the fact that there is a behind-the-scenes.

The party distributed from various centers tons of "literature." And in addition to meetings arranged by state and local committees, a series of huge demonstrations was held in the cities of every doubtful state. Besides the party's regular speakers, we hired, as many "independent" orators as we could. But all these other

It might be called the headquarters of the rank and file of the party—those millions of "principle" voters and workers who were for Babcock because he was the standard-bearer of their party. No money, no bribes, no patronage have to be given to them; but it costs several millions to raise that mass to the pitch of hot enthusiasm which will make each individual in it certain to go to the polls on election day and take his neighbors instead of staying at home and hoping the party won't lose.

O. Pickles!
A woman writes says: "Marry a man with a good digestion and no nerves if you want a pearl of a husband. All of the seven deadly sins do not make a man as hard to live with as a genuine, well-developed case of liver. Choose, therefore, as a husband a man who is hearty and husky and who can eat three square meals a day. A preferred type of this man is the one who is frankly fond of good eating and who has a Welsh rabbit recipe and a special way of making salad dressing. Grab a man like that the very first opportunity you get, for as a husband he is lovely."—Milwaukee Sentinel.
